

AN INTERESTING COUNTY TABLE

Shows Valuation Of Every Township In Entire County In Comparison.

AN INCREASE IN MANY LOCALITIES

Figures That Can Be Studied With Care By The Tax Payers Of The County--Loss And Gain Is Recorded.

Authentic figures for the values and apportionment for Rock county found below will be of interest to Gazette readers all over the county.		The total assessment for the county for 1907 is $17,188,280, and Supervisor Starr's estimate of the true valuation is $26,301,722, making the ratio of assessment in proportion to the true value nearly 72 per cent.		The increase of assessment in towns is $117,454 and the increase in cities and villages $1,227,300, less the decrease in Evansville and Orfordville of $50,812, leaving the net increase in cities and villages, $1,176,488, and making the total increase for the county at $1,593,942.
As a basis for this year's apportionment, $53,000,000 is suggested and the table shows how the schedule would work out for the several cities, towns and villages of the county. The result shows that 10 towns will likely pay less county tax and four will pay more than last year. While three cities show an increase, four show a decrease in their portion of the county tax, Beloit shows an increase of $751,185 in assessed value, Edgerton comes next with $371,406, and Janesville has $385,511.		In this connection a comparison of sales records with the "true value" figures will be interesting. One hundred "inspected" pieces of property in Janesville, twenty from each ward, show an assessment ratio to the true value of 755. One hundred "inspected" pieces of property in Beloit, twenty from each ward, show an assessment ratio to true value of 758. The "sale" ratio of assessment for Beloit was 753 in 1905, 768 for 1906 and 563 for 1907; an average of 758 for the three years. During these three years there were cash transfers in Beloit to the amount of $859,492 which property was assessed at $225,787. The rapidly increasing values in the Line City this past year have pulled Beloit's average down.		The sale ratio for Janesville has been 562 in 1905, 560 in 1906 and 559 in 1907; an average ratio of 560 for the three years. The total cash sales for three years in Janesville amount to $728,552 which property was assessed at $564,130.

HARRIMAN MUST SHOW CAUSE FOR RETICENCE

The Railroad Magnate And Broker Will Be Brought Before Federal Court For Not Answering Questions Of Commission.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Oct. 21.—The inside history of the financing of the Chicago & Alton Railroad is expected to come to light this week when Edward H. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn of Kahn, Loeb & Co., will appear before the federal court in this city to show cause why the petition of the Interstate Commerce Commission should be granted calling upon both men to appear before it and answer the questions which both declined to answer on the advice of counsel at the hearing held by the commission in this city last winter.
The question which Messrs. Harriman and Kahn declined to answer, for the most part, had to do with the financing of the Chicago & Alton Road. The first question which Mr. Harriman declined to answer upon the advice of his counsel, related to the purchase by Mr. Harriman of Chicago & Alton stock, and the amount of such purchase, and subsequent sale. Mr. Harriman is also charged with refusing to tell how much preferred stock of the Union Pacific he owned, nor would he explain what the holdings of H. H. Rogers, H. C. Frick and himself were of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe stock. Mr. Harriman also refused to state the connection of Kahn, & Co., with the transaction, that firm having acted as broker in the purchase of the Santa Fe stock.
Mr. Harriman also refused to answer questions in regard to buying 105,000 shares of Illinois Central stock, as well as most of the questions put to him concerning the facts under which the famous 10 per cent. Southern Pacific dividend was declared, and whether or not he profited by the sudden and rapid appreciation of that stock that he might profit by it.
Mr. Kahn is charged with declining to answer questions explaining the connection of Kahn, Loeb & Co., with the purchase of the 105,000 shares of Illinois Central stock on August 9, 1906, for the Union Pacific at 175, nor would he say what part of the stock, if any, was held for the benefit of directors of the Union Pacific Road. Mr. Kahn has already expressed his willingness to answer the questions when next called upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission and it is believed that Mr. Harriman will likewise change front and give the desired information. The law under which the Interstate Commerce Commission derives its authority provides for the punishment of any person or persons who refuse to answer such questions as the commission may propound to them.

MARKET TAKES MUCH BETTER TONE AGAIN

Speculators Begin to Have Confidence in the Condition of Affairs Again.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Oct. 21.—Encouraged by the protective measures adopted over Sunday, by the clearing house banks, the speculators took a more favorable view of the financial situation this morning and the stock market opened strong and higher. The clearing house committee decided at the meeting for day to assume the responsibility for the Mercantile National Bank's large deficit balance. This is the third consecutive day on which the associated banks have gone to the assistance of the Mercantile.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Manitowoc, Wis., Oct. 21.—After a revolver fight in an old barn, where the men were surrounded, four tramps, believed to be desperate and professional criminals, were captured by Sheriff George Lambeth and three deputies early Sunday morning at Centerville and are held in jail for contempt of court officers, who believe the men implicated in the raid at Beloit Friday night, when three stores were robbed. The men were armed with revolvers and carried a full kit of burglar's tools, including explosives, iron wire, dynamite, caps, fuse, etc., skeleton keys, jimmyes, pliers and other tools. Thirty knives, six razors, seven watches and about $10 in money was found in possession of the men who gave the names of John Hopkins, Peter Busch, James Schiller, the fourth man, evidently the leader, refusing to give his name. The arrest followed the appearance of the men at Cleveland and their attempt to dispose of razors and knives. A man of Wisconsin, serving in all clubs, was among the effects of the prisoners and marks on it indicate that they had planned a campaign in this section of the state. The capture is considered a most important one. To the district attorney, one of the men admitted that originally there had been nine men in the party.

POSTPONE FIGHT TO SOME FUTURE DATE

Fish and Harriman Adjourn Meeting of Illinois Central Until December.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Oct. 21.—The Fish and Harriman factions today reached an agreement to postpone the Illinois Central meeting to December 18th, in the meantime the right to vote the 286,721 shares under dispute will be fought out in the courts.
The decision to adjourn the meeting was the result of a conference held at three this morning between William Nelson Cromwell for Harriman and Judge E. H. Farrar for Fish. The overtures came from Cromwell, who sought out the Fish people and declared he wished to come to an understanding of an agreement. It is understood the total number of votes considered by the proxies committee was not far from 400,000; of this amount Fish according to excellent authority controlled 250,000 and Harriman 210,000. It is evident Harriman is beaten unless he can bring into the contest some portion of the shares against which Judge Hall issued an injunction a week ago.

DOES BRYAN ASPIRE TO BE NOMINATED?

Belief in East That Nebraskaian Wants Nomination For Presidency Again.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Oct. 21.—The belief among the political leaders of both parties that William J. Bryan aspires to be the democratic standard bearer again next year on the feeling, moreover, that he will soon make formal announcement of his candidacy for the nomination has created a more or less lively interest in his present visit to the east. Opening with an address in Cooper Union tonight the Nebraska leader has planned a speaking tour that will consume several weeks and provides for his appearance in most of the large cities of New York State and New England.
Mr. Bryan was to have made his initial speech tonight, not in Cooper Union, which has a comparatively small seating capacity, but in Madison Square Garden, which was the scene of his most notable triumphs on his return from a tour of the world. His positive refusal, however, to accept contributions from corporations or other large financial interests, it is stated, handicapped the management so much for funds that the plan to have the demonstration in Madison Square Garden had to be abandoned. Carnegie Hall was given up for the same reason, and it was finally decided to hold the meeting in Cooper Union. If the occasion warrants it an overflow meeting will be held to accommodate the crowd.

WILL BUILD NEW
TOBACCO SHED

F. S. BAINES WILL ERECT STORAGE AND SALES BUILDING 90 BY 154 FEET.

WHITEBRICK TO BE MATERIAL

Structure Will Be Built South of Present Warehouse and Adjacent to St. Paul Tracks.

F. S. Baines will build a new storage and sales tobacco building, 90x154 feet in dimensions, one story high, on the west side of Madison street, south of the present warehouse, and adjacent to the St. Paul railway tracks. It is expected that construction work will be commenced this fall and the building will be completed in time to house some of next year's tobacco crop. White brick will be the building material with concrete foundation and cement floors. The entire structure will be fire proof, the plans, which were drawn by Architect W. H. Blair, having been submitted to and approved by the state insurance inspector, thus entitling the lowest rate of insurance on the building.

The structure will have a floor space of 13,600 square feet and will be built in three apartments, each to be separated by a brick fire wall. The roof will be fireproof with skylights and the doors will also be fireproof. The building will be one story in height so that eight tobacco cars may be piled on one another.

At present Mr. Baines is in the east on a business trip, but it is expected that he will return in a few days to close up the contract, James Shearer of this city having been the lowest bidder.

"Gazette Ads Pay," Says F. J. Hinterschied.

The opening of the new double store of F. J. Hinterschied this morning proved even more successful than anticipated. Announcement of the opening was made in Saturday's Gazette and this morning long before 10 o'clock the opening hour, the crowd in front of the store overflowed into the street. When the doors were opened the crush was so great that clothes and hats were torn. For some time the clerical force was swamped and a number of amusing incidents occurred. In their haste to secure some of the articles in one of the windows three women climbed over the high partition separating the window from the store and farther back in the store the singing crowds moved the piano nearly across the store and back of the counter.

The announcement in the Gazette was responsible for the success of the opening and Mr. Hinterschied is enthusiastic in his praise of the Gazette as an advertising medium. He has demonstrated again that "Its Pays to Advertise."

H. L. McNamara, treasurer of the National Association of Retail Hardware Dealers, left yesterday for Argos, Indiana, to attend a meeting of the executive committee which are to hold preliminary to the meeting at Atlantic City this week.

J. A. Everett, of Indianapolis, president of the American Society of Equity, which claims to have organized over a million farmers to hold their products for a certain arbitrary schedule of prices, is opposed to the parcel post plan advocated by Postmaster General Ayer.

By this letter to the mayor, Postmaster Van Hise announces a policy that is new here. Hereafter the students have been very leniently dealt with by the Madison police and only in extreme cases have the university boys been thrown into jail or fined.

There is a faculty rule that any student who is convicted of an offense against the peace thereby suspends himself indefinitely from the university, and for this reason the police have refrained from arresting students for minor offenses, because the small fine that might be imposed would be the least part of the punishment.

Mayor Schubert declares that in view of the invitation of President Van Hise, he will direct the police department to arrest and bring into court every student caught under the influence of liquor or in any way disorderly.

VAN HISE MAKES A DECIDED STATEMENT

Says Students Who Violate the Law Must Be Punished as Other People Are.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Oct. 21.—"Students have no right to break the law any more than have any other citizens," declared Dr. C. R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, in a letter to Mayor J. C. Schubert of Madison. "If a student breaks the laws or a city ordinance it is the duty of the constituted authorities of the peace to visit the penalty upon the offender, be he student or any one else."

By this letter to the mayor, Postmaster Van Hise announces a policy that is new here. Hereafter the students have been very leniently dealt with by the Madison police and only in extreme cases have the university boys been thrown into jail or fined.

PERHAPS BALLOONS
MAY COME THIS WAY

Experts Start from St. Louis on Long Race Today—May Sail This Way If Wind Is Right.

Residents of southern Wisconsin are warned not to be alarmed during the week if they see balloons flying through the air over them.

The aeronauts who are to take part in the international balloon races at St. Louis this week have been making trial trips from that city. These were usually all-night cruises and as the wind has been a steady blow from the southeast for two days, some of these parties will reach this locality without doubt.

Should one of the balloons appear in the sky a telephone message to the Gazette would be appreciated, as the arrival of a balloon in this vicinity would be a matter of importance.

A successful flight was made Thursday night by the Psyche, with Aeronaut McCoy and Capt. Chandler aboard. The balloon traveling more than 100 miles in four hours. Wednesday night the pair attempted to make an all-night trip but was prevented by a deluge of rain. They were scheduled to make another trip.

Major Horsey of Milwaukee, who will pilot the balloon United States, and Prof. A. L. Rottel of Blair 11th observatory, who will accompany Oscar Grubbs in the Pommeria, are now in St. Louis.

Some complaint has been expressed by the aeronauts for having to put up $1,000 bond when their balloons were brought into the United States. The bond will be returned, however, when the aeronauts depart.

Every balloon is being carefully guarded to make sure of no repetition of the Santos Dumont affair, when the Brazilian airship was ripped before the races at the world's fair.

THE FORWARD PASS.

Rockwell, Noted Yale Football Expert, Gives Sound Criticism.

HOW RULES AFFECT PASS.

"Indiscriminate Usage Means Indifferent Success," Says the Star Ex-Quarterback, Who Fears "Mollycoddle" Gridiron Game in the Future.

By KID ROCKWELL, of Yale, An American Quarterback in 1902.

We have the forward pass again in football this year and furthermore can indulge in it without restrictions, and only time alone can proclaim whether we are helping our sport thereby.

The change seems of little significance perhaps, but let us look at the history of the forward pass last season and see wherein lay its worth.

CAPTAIN DETHAY, UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO.

First came the woful cry of the impossibility of working it. But this was soon forgotten after the play had been used with success. The severe penalty, that of losing the ball if in making the pass it should hit the ground before touching a player, caused it to be used little except in the opponent's territory. No quarterback wanted to take the chance of making the pass in his own territory, for its failure would give the ball to the opponent in the scoring belt. That would be suicidal. This year one may hurl the ball anywhere on the field, and if it does not happen to reach a player the penalty is only fifteen yards, and with it goes another try of a kick, provided one has not waited until the third down to make the pass. If one has waited until the third down and fails the loss of the ball results, as in the past.

The objection last season was the restriction placed on the play, but did it not add to the charm, the boldness and the spectacular effect of a well executed pass?

Will not this very play, deprived of this very boldness of its execution, lose much of its pictorial effect and become dull and stupid?

Certainly it will be used prominently, if the games played thus far are any criterion, for possession of the ball means loss in the new game. Indiscriminate usage means indifferent success. And this means continually going back fifteen yards as a penalty for failure.

The result is nothing less than a good game chopped up by repeated penalties, offering nothing attractive to an audience and absolutely ending the player's joy.

The forward pass last year—and the same is true of the outside kick—was a success, as the possibility of some pass being made at any time tended to widen and keep the defense spread, thereby making the running game possible.

The pass then was a means to an end. Now will it not be an end in itself?

And if so football will be harmed. Let those who were lucky enough to see the Yale-Princeton and Yale-Harvard games last year ask themselves what gave them their greatest thrills. Was it the reported and brilliant forward passing of Veder of Yale or the fifty and sixty yard marches down the field that the Yale team made by rushing the ball toward the end of each game without a forward pass or an outside kick—where team play figured, where the personality of the captain inspired and, above all, where craftiness and strategy spoke eloquently in the quarter's generalship?

To me the latter is the essence of football, the reason it has become the greatest of college games.

When we compare the game of today with that of a decade ago the improvement in the tone of the sport is so startling that if it continues on the same line of improvement perhaps in no distant future the other extreme will be reached, and "mollycoddles" will become eligible, while politeness over the possession of the ball will take the place of the once tolerated custom of capturing it from a runner.

SONG OF THE TRAINING TABLE.

(Chicago university football candidates are training on vegetable and uncooked foods at Coach Stagg's orders.)

We are growing tired of both mitts and of delectated oats
And of peanuts boiled and fried and on the shell.
And, as for friedized parsnips, you can feed them to the goats.
And you might throw in the carrots just as well.

We cannot thrive on cabbage and formaldehydized spuds;
We can't abide the lettuce au gratin.
If this keeps up much longer, we shall rattle in our beds,
And our chest development will be a span.

The pall of pickled walnuts and of lubricated prunes
Has fallen on us with appalling force,
And the topless croquettes we shall taste for many moons,
And the pap that trails in with the second course.

Let Alonso take the bean skins—leave the jellies at the gate—
The pumpkin may be all right in its place,
But we've browsed upon this foolishness so commonly of late
We're afraid to look a square meal in the face.

TY COBB AT THE BAT.

It looked extremely rocky for the Tiger nine that day:
The score stood eight to six, with an inning left to play.
But Ben Crawford lined a single and brought suspense once more,
For Cobb, the mighty Tyrus, was doping out the score.

There was ease in Ty Cobb's manner as he stood in his place:
There was pride in Ty Cobb's bearing and a smile on Ty Cobb's face,
And when, responding to the silence, he tightly pulled his bat
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Ty Cobb at the bat.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light,
And somewhere men are laughing where there never hangs a pall,
But there is no joy in Phillie since mighty Tyrus hit that ball.

IF THIS IS ONLY A PARTIME, IT'S NO WONDER JAPAN IS AFRAID OF US.

"We certainly had it rubbed into us this year," remarked Shortstop George Davis of the Chicago Americans as Professor Jimmy Hardell poured a fresh lot of oil on George's stiff joints. (Copyright 1907 by George Davis.)

GOOD FOOTBALL ADVICE.

Eleven Need Fast Runners—How to Throw the Ball.

Under the new rules speed is the one great asset of the present game of football, and a team which has no fast runners is sadly out of the running. The rapidity with which the plays are run off and the precision with which they are executed are essential. The present game is not in some respects so exhausting as the old game, and the quarter should drive his team at top speed all the time. If the opponents are not in the best of condition this speed gradually will wear them down, which will enable the other team to run over them at will.

Practice is the only way to become proficient in these departments. The change in the rules which enables a team to try the forward pass on the first and second downs without surrounding the ball, if not successfully executed, will put a premium on the throwing department.

The best way to throw a ball is to grasp it firmly in the hand with the thumb on the inner and toss it with the point toward the person who is to receive it. This will give it the spiral effect which makes it easy to handle.

Kicking has been and always will be one of the most important departments of the game. It gives a team great confidence to have a reliable kicker, and a team cannot be considered a first class aggregation without one. Ten yards is a long distance to be gained in three downs, and when two teams are evenly matched the punt signal invariably will be given on the third down.

The kicking game is an excellent one with a good kicker and a fast pair of ends. Practice will make one an expert kicker. Drop kicking and place kicking also have come to the front, and many a game last year was won by a field goal.

Gossip of People and Events
Gathered in Washington

SULTAN TO SEND NEW MINISTER TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—As a forerunner of the embassy about to be established by the Turkish government in Washington, Mehmed Ali Bey is coming to this capital as minister from the sublime Porte. The news came to the state department from Ambassador Lelshmann at Constantinople, who called the department that the Porte had requested him to ascertain whether Mehmed would be acceptable in a ministerial capacity. The department replied affirmatively, and it is understood that the new minister will be in Washington by the time that President Roosevelt returns to this city from his western trip.

In the selection of Mehmed Ali as minister to Washington the sultan has again given an illustration of the extent to which personal feeling dominates official life in Turkey in such appointments. The new minister is the son of one of the intimates of the Turkish ruler, the well-known Izzet Bey, the sultan's personal secretary for foreign affairs, which office, necessarily, has brought him into frequent and close contact with his sovereign. Izzet Bey is also local adviser to the sultan. The fact that with sufficient influence with the sultan to enable him to select almost any diplomatic post for his son, Izzet should have chosen Washington, is regarded as a manifestation of the growing appreciation in Turkey of the importance of America as a factor in international affairs.

UNCLE SAM ENRICHED BY LOST MONEY ORDERS

A WASHINGTON woman discovered some days ago that her German nurse was destroying the money orders she purchased to remit to the fatherland. She had torn up within the last five years more than $500 of money orders, thinking they were receipts for the money deposited in the office at Washington and that the money had been duly sent to her old mother in Germany.

This incident recalls the fact that there has accumulated in the national treasury millions of dollars, possibly ten millions, since the establishment of the present system in 1863. An official, speaking of the system, said: "This vast accumulation of money is steadily being augmented from year to year, and unless the people become better acquainted with the character of a money order transaction the accumulated sum promises to become almost fabulous. This money has accumulated through no fault of the United States. The system is perfect and instructions relating to it are clear and ample."

"For one thing it is known that persons purchasing money orders ignorantly destroy them, believing that the order constitutes nothing more than a receipt. Many persons also are in the habit of purchasing money orders before traveling from one place to another, with a view to converting them into cash as needed, and these are lost through carelessness, by fire, or otherwise.

"Notwithstanding this, the government has wisely made provision for the payment of money orders lost or destroyed, by the issuance, upon satisfactory proof of loss or destruction, of a duplicate money order payable to the payee or remitter making application therefor, as the case may be. Provision is also made for the payment of orders which are not presented for payment before the time limit provided by law has expired.

"In one instance a claim for the payment of a lost postal note was allowed 25 years after it became invalid. It will be seen that as trustees for its citizens in the transfer of private funds the United States exercises diligence in an attempt to find the rightful owner. And yet millions are yet outstanding for which claimants will never appear. This vast sum is held in suspense by the government."

His Courtship

By Helen R. Martin

Author of "Tillie: A Mennonite Maid."

Illustrated by Berneker

"Enjoyed it more than any novel I have read in five years."

This is a New York newspaper man's verdict of "His COURTSHIP." It will be yours when you have read the story which will be published

IN THIS PAPER

It is a most delightful love story. The college professor who taught philosophy and imagined himself immune from the attacks of Cupid learns there are more things in heaven and earth than he had dreamed of in his philosophy when he meets the mysterious maiden on the Morningstar farm. The scene is laid in the country. The story smells of the sweet fields—the freshly plowed ground, the wild rose, the new mown hay.

"It is rarely that one comes across a book so warm, so tender, so personal in its indefinable quality of human sympathy and comprehension."—Buffalo Courier.

"... Deliciously and variously humorous throughout. In a word, 'His Courtship' is one of the most thoroughly enjoyable novels of the season."—Newark News.

A TREASURE HUNT BY THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

THE active cooperation of the states of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, from the mouth of the Potomac to the Mississippi, is enlisted in an investigation for which preparations are under way at the United States geological survey.

A systematic study is to be made of the age, character and general relations of the rocks of the coastal plain, special effort being made to determine the position and extent of beds of economic interest, including water-bearing beds, phosphate deposits, full-or-half earth and other materials.

The general plan of the investigation was formulated at Washington on January 1, 1907, at a conference invited by the director of the national survey.

At this conference the work that had already been done was discussed and arrangements were made for one of the most extensive cooperative investigations ever undertaken by the geological survey. The discussion brought out the fact that the work in New Jersey and Maryland had been completed under the auspices of the states, while that in Alabama is far advanced.

The geological surveys of North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi have also done considerable work in the coastal plain region, and reports on the water resources of Georgia and Alabama have been published by the state bureaus.

The work of the national survey in this area has been confined to investigations of underground water problems in Virginia and North Carolina and to studies of the phosphate deposits of Florida.

If present plans are carried out field work in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida will be completed in 1907, and that in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi will be reserved for 1908.
